Gould & Ratner Client David Andalcio Wins USHCC 2020 Hispanic Business Person of the Year Award

Client and friend of the firm David Andalcio, CEO of Wynndalco, was recently named 2020 Hispanic Business Person of the Year by the United States Hispanic Chamber of Commerce \(USHCC\). Each year, USHCC recognizes an entrepreneur because of their outstanding leadership, pioneering spirit and social and economic contributions. David will accept this honor, virtually, at the closing awards ceremony of the USHCC National Conference on September 29.

"I am here today due to the great representation from the entire team and Gould & Ratner, including Fred Tannenbaum, Joe Laub, Rich Reizen, Rob Chidester, Vanessa Tiradentes, Susan Mosteller, and so many others! Thank you for your representation and leadership since the inception of Wynndalco in 2009," said David of his long-time relationship with the firm and quality lawyers.

The United States Hispanic Chamber of Commerce actively promotes the economic growth, development and interests of nearly 5 million Hispanic-owned businesses, advocates on behalf of 260 major American corporations, and serves as the umbrella organization for more than 250 local chambers and business associations nationwide.
