Gould & Ratner sponsored the Crain's Real Estate Forum Series: The New Workplace Landscape on June 29 via webinar. The featured speaker was Sandeep Mathrani, CEO of WeWork. Topics included how the workforce transitioned from one of handshakes and lunch meetings to that of virtual calls and home office tours. Also, now that cities are lifting some coronavirus-related restrictions, what that will mean for the workplace? We will also find out what changes Mathrani has implemented in the wake of the pandemic, his vision for the future of the office market and his plans to revitalize the coworking company.
