CHICAGO – Gould & Ratner LLP is pleased to announce that Matthew A. Olins has joined the firm as a partner in its Corporate Practice.

Olins focuses his practice in the areas of business reorganization, restructuring and insolvency, commercial finance and creditors' rights.

In his wide-ranging practice, Olins represents lenders, special servicers and various types of other creditors in loan workouts, business bankruptcy cases, commercial finance transactions, commercial foreclosures and litigation. He also represents businesses that are reorganizing or liquidating.

"We are delighted to welcome Matt to the firm," said Mark Leipold, chair of Gould & Ratner's Corporate Practice. "Matt's experience adds greater depth to a variety of areas in our Corporate Practice that will have a direct benefit to our clients."

"Gould & Ratner offers me a great platform to serve banks, other financial services firms and middle-market companies, all of which are particular sweet spots for our Corporate Practice," said Olins, who most recently was a partner in the Chicago office of Duane Morris.

Olins earned his J.D. from Washington University School of Law in St. Louis and a B.A., cum laude, from Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio.

For more than 75 years, Gould & Ratner LLP has provided comprehensive legal counsel and business advice to Fortune 500 corporations, closely held businesses, financial institutions and entrepreneurs, as well as families and their businesses in litigation, real estate, corporate, tax, estate and succession planning, human resources and employment, construction, environmental, intellectual property and related specialty fields.
